Question	Answer
“Exclusion criteria: a) If selected CSO and responsible persons involved and benefiting from the project are at the same time employed as a local authority, university or judicial entity representatives.” Does this relates to secondary/primary school teachers?	The criteria applies to the persons and CSOs mentioned in the criteria: “CSO and responsible persons involved and benefiting from the project are at the same time employed as a local authority, university or judicial entity representatives.” These criteria also include school teachers if they are engaged under Heading 1. However they can be engaged as experts under Heading 5 - youth workers. But nevertheless, all national regulations regarding contracts and payment of those persons should be respected.
Since the NGO is working in rural areas, in small villages, is it possible to organize transport for young people from different villages to one place?	This would be considered eligible if the transport is organized to one of the villages where at least one group of young people live or spend most of the time. As explained in the Guidelines: “Gender mobile youth club” is a new innovative gender sensitive youth outreach methodology targeting the ones that are hardest to reach. The Gender mobile youth club methodology is created to reach the most vulnerable young people in places where they live and/or spend their free time in remote and socially isolated communities and substandard settlements and to engage them into the youth work activities. Using the outreach and street youth work based of non-formal education, it will create safe space for young people from this area to discuss how gender norms affect every day’s lives in local communities, teach them to identify obstacles and needs in the achieving equality and implement small local actions to address those needs.”
What is the age limit for young people to participate?	Youth for the purpose of this call is considered from 15 to 30 years old
